

28th January 2013

Hi everyone,

Our first 27FLB has left the factory in China via flat bed truck.

Note the size of the administration block in the background.

Unique striping adds a classy look to the fifth wheeler.

The Ship has sailed!

The Sepang Express is a large ship designed for vehicle transport. The 27FLB is towed up a huge ramp into the body of the ship, and then tied down for the journey to Brisbane. We are using this type of vessel as cargo is stowed inside the ship body, sealing it from the elements.

Can you see the Adventura waving from the window? LOL.....

I will contact everybody when the ship docks at the Brisbane port.

A week or two will be needed to fit the Australian appliances (Air Con, Fridge, and TV etc), Gas and 240 volt power.

I am really looking forward to putting a face to all the names of people who have contacted me about the 27FLB. Please make sure you give me a call before you visit, so that I can dedicate plenty of time to everyone.

I have just set up Pacific RV Australia on Facebook.

You can see this page on this link <http://www.facebook.com/PacificRVAustralia>

If you use Facebook, don't forget to press the "Like us" tag to share us with your friends.

Eagerly awaiting the delivery of our new arrival!!!!

Regards

Garry
